1.3 The program develops and implements a long-term strategic plan.

The plan must be congruent with the mission of the institution, have the support of the university administration, and reflect the role of the program within the community. Components of a plan may include long-term program goals, specific measurable objectives, strategies for attainment, a schedule for analysis, and a mechanism for regular evaluation of the plan itself and of progress in meeting the plan's objectives. The plan and the results of the regular evaluation of the plan and its implementation must be shared with faculty, students, staff, alumni, and other interested parties.

  - These areas are highlighted in graduate school information meetings held every fall. In 2014 we increased our number of informational meetings from 1 to 2.
  - We have nationally and internationally recognized researchers in most major areas of speech-language pathology and in multiple areas of audiology.
  - Clinical training practice opportunities in our on-campus clinic are numerous and diverse. In both audiology and speech-language pathology we serve both pediatric and adult clients. We have specialized clinics in aural rehabilitation, stuttering, social communication groups, preschool language groups, ALS and TBI groups, etc.
