

Experiencing Microaggressions or Bias in the Classroom? On Campus?

Would you like to share your experiences and learn methods to transform challenging conversations into experiences leading to an inclusive community?

College of Health Diversity and Inclusion Committee invites students to attend:

Dialogue Skills Session with David Derezotes and Fellows of Transforming Classrooms into Inclusive Communities.

March 9, 2018

1:00-3:00 PM

Marriott Library | Gould Auditorium

Free for COH Students | Refreshments provided

TCIC staff from the University CTLE will provide opportunities for both:

- Small group dialogue in which participants can talk about their experiences
- Large group psychodrama in which participants can watch some of their experiences played out by TCIC staff and can participate in learning new dialogue skills

RSVP: Google Doc